Clarity for Specifiers and Buyers

Lindapter USA has announced the roll out of a new international distributor network, providing engineers and buyers with a regional sales and technical support service.

Lindapter USA would like to remove any potential confusion and confirm that LNA Solutions are not an authorized Lindapter distributor and are not supported or accredited in any manner by Lindapter. "LNA" Solutions is not an acronym of "Lindapter North America" and LNA Solutions are not licensed to use the Lindapter trademark to represent their organization.

Original Lindapter products are readily available in the USA from authorized distributors, with Edge Construction Supply supplying the North West region.

Lindapter USA has significantly enhanced its distribution network throughout North America to supply inventory from multiple locations, offering buyers greater product availability and faster delivery at lower costs. Edge are trained and supported by Lindapter's R&D and Technical Support Department, providing a rapid response to technical inquiries, a free connection design service, CAD drawings and installation guidance. Ensure your approved vendor list includes Edge Construction Supply.
